

TALKING TOKENS

This small group discussion strategy will protect against one person dominating the discussion and against one or more persons not participating at all. Since it is sequentially structured, it works well when there are several different questions for discussion.

1. The rules for small group discussion are the same.

2. Whenever a person wants to talk, he/she must put his/her "Talking Token" in the center of the table. (See Talking Tokens for Activity)

3. Whenever all group members' tokens are in the center of the table, everyone retrieves his/her token and the process begins again.
